

U.S. CARBINES FOR MALAYA

American M.I. Type carbines are the latest lease-lend weapons to arrive in Malaya. Capable of a high rate of fire, they are both light and accurate - ideal for use against the Communist terrorists.

Malayan Government officials issue the carbines to planters and miners - many of whom exchange Sten guns for the new weapons. These people have often suffered from sudden, murderous attacks by the terrorists, and they welcome the carbines as a further protection to their families and homes.

Malayan police test the weapons on a firing range -- and, a mining engineer tries out the new carbine..

Now Malaysians and settlers get ready to hit back.
