NEWS FLASHES

The city of Nagoya in Japan is rocked by a devastating explosion. A fifteen-ton hydrogen tank blew up and now rescue workers brave the poisonous fumes to search in the wreckage of the chemical plant that was totally destroyed. Sixteen people were killed and two-hundred-and-thirty seriously injured. Japan, a frequent victim of earthquakes, is again stricken by tragedy.

Aachenkirch

Ski racing draws the crowds to the Tyrolean village of Aachenkirch high in the Alps. Every inch of the course is full of risks - but the more they fall the better the customers like it.

As well as the local dare-devils many holiday visitors try their luck in the races. All you need for the sport is a motor-bike, a pair of skis and plenty of nerve. Stand 'em up, knock 'em down and drag 'em out -- yes, it's a great sport - if you don't weaken.
