

KENYA READY FOR C-DAY

Coronation excitement is affecting not only this country - the most outlandish villages in Kenya are joining in the celebrations as well. For weeks now Union Jacks have been going up all over the country - even in the Kikuyu reserve, the chief trouble centre of the Mau Mau's activities.

While mother puts the finishing touches, junior too pays tribute to his young Queen who soon is to be crowned in a distant land. Now Punwami schoolchildren send a loyal greeting to Her Majesty:

NAT. SOUND

And, in Kenya as in our land, the toast is the same: a health unto Her Majesty. For these people, troubled though they may be, hold an abiding loyalty for their sovereign, the young Queen who, probably, they will never see. Macamba villagers show that loyalty by dancing to celebrate her crowning:

In Kenya, as throughout the Empire, the people rejoice in Her Majesty's Coronation.
