

QUEEN WITH COLONIAL TROOPS

The Queen watches a march past of 2,400 Colonial and Commonwealth troops, all of whom took part in the great Coronation procession. Taking a keen interest from a Palace balcony are the royal children.

The troops who fascinate the Prince and Princess so much, receive congratulations and thanks for their magnificent bearing and precision marching on Coronation Day from Her Majesty the Queen.