LIEUTENANT CARNE RETURNS FROM RED PRISON
CAMP (Commander of the Glorious Gloucesters)

Red Cross lorries move towards Freedom Village at Panmunjon, bringing some of the last United Nations troops from prison camps behind the Communist lines. One of the "Glorious Gloucesters" to be released is their commander, pipe smoking Lieutenant Colonel Carne, the reds put him into solitary confinement for eighteen months. Carne, who is still weak from his ordeal, was awarded the D.S.O. while in prison camp. Soon he'll be home to answer the stories told by British POWs indoctrinated by the Reds.
