TRIESTE FUNERALS

Our unassembled coverage of the funerals of six Triestines killed by civil police during last days riots, shows :

Central streets of Trieste during the passage of the hearses.

A mourning crowd falls apart throwing flowers.

Religious and civil authorities, among them the mayor of Trieste Dr. Bartoli (tall, white haired gentlemen) follow the funeral train very simple and unadorned for all its touching atmosphere.

Italian flags, draped in black, are hoistered at every window.

At the funeral chamber inside S. Giusto: close-ups of some of the victims.

Exterior shots of the small S. Giusto church: students wearing black ties for their dead schoolfellows.
