

102854-C

54/36.

PARIS - DE GAULLE ACCLAIMED.

General de Gaulle walks to the Unknown Soldier's grave at the Arc de Triomphe where several of his former war colleagues join him in an act of homage. This is intended as his own private tribute to the men who died in the last war when he was commander-in-chief of the Free French Forces.

Suddenly De Gaulle supporters begin a demonstration calling on the General to take power in France. Smashing down the barricades they burst through the police cordons.

Former paratroopers who served in the last war or in Indo-China are said to be militant leaders. The tragic loss of Dien Bien Phu has turned many Frenchmen against Premier Laniel and his government, and the de Gaullists seem to be taking this opportunity to press for their dismissal and for the return of the General. Eleven policemen are injured in the demonstration which, leading Frenchmen believe, may set de Gaulle back on the road to the top.

Released Thursday 13.5.54.

52 General Charles de Gaulle walks to the Unknown Soldier's grave at the Arc de Triomphe where several of his former war colleagues watch him pay homage. This is intended as his own private tribute to the men who died in the last war when he was commander-in-chief of the Free French Forces.

UP

80 Suddenly De Gaulle supporters begin a demonstration calling on the General to take power in France. Smashing down the barricades they burst through the police cordons.

UP

109 Former paratroopers who served in the last war or in Indo-China are said to be the ^{Maoist} ~~right~~ leaders. The tragic loss of Dien Bien Phu has turned many ~~EM~~ Frenchmen against Premier Laniel and his government, and the de Gaullists seem to be taking this opportunity to press for their dismissal and for the return of the General. Eleven policemen are injured in the demonstration which, leading Frenchmen believe, may set de Gaulle back on the road to the top.