U.S.A. - "POGO" PLANE TAKES OFF.

The pilot is all set for the first flight of the XFV - 1, the U.S. Navy's new fighter. The plane which is designed for take-off from the deck of a cargo boat, goes straight up like a space-ship, but at a fraction of the speed. It can hover just like a helicopter, yet can travel at 500 miles an hour in level flight. A touch of the controls, and down it comes for a tail-first landing. Soon, it's hoped, the Pogo 'plane will be in priority production, and then it'll be off to join the Navy.
