

CLYDE V. ABERDEEN.

Rival captains toss up at Easter Road, Edinburgh, when Clyde meet Aberdeen. The dark-shirted Dons kick-off and their great semi-final fight is on.

Clyde's defence try to swing play round, and Robertson's long clearance does the trick. As McPhail chases it to the wing, Young tries to clear. McPhail goes after it again, but Caldwell is covering him. Clyde, in fighting mood, carve through Aberdeen's defence and a corner is their reward. With Hill away unfit, its Divers who takes it. Goalie Martin has an anxious time until left-winger Ring tries a shot - and Clyde have scored!

Clyde fans have plenty to keep them cheerful during the first half, but here Ring loses to Smith, the Don's right back, and Clyde's raid comes to naught.

Clyde's goalie Hawkins is soon getting down to work. And there's a lot more coming up. Seven minutes before half-time, Allister takes a free-kick that Buckley bangs home to level the score!

Two minutes later, Buckley slams in another - a terrific shot that makes it 2-1 to the Dons. The interval comes with no change. Smith, the Don's right-back, is an early casualty after resumption. Then, to make matter worse, Clyde are awarded a penalty, but Robertsen shoots wide.

It's not until the last minute that Clyde manage to level the score, thanks to Ring. So, with the two goals apiece, Clyde and Aberdeen prepare to meet again.
