SILVERSTONE:

At Silverstone, a star-studded list of Grand Prix cars get away for the Daily Express International Trophy Race. On England's biggest day of racing, this race is the main event.

Soon after the start, Mike Hawthorne steaks into the lead in a Vanwall but later has to retire with oil trouble. Salvadori in No.4. follows closely in a Maserati. With him, also in a Maserati is Stirling Moss. One disappointment of the 60-lap, 180 mile race, has been the withdrawal of the official Ferrari team.

Ken Wharten gets his Vanwall back in the race after a forced stop at the pits. A scorcher of a race, this, now it looks as if Moss is in trouble and has to retire,. A duel between Salvadori and Peter Collins in No.3. a Maserati.

Ken Wharten makes for safety after escaping from his crashed Vanwall with only minor injuries and burns. After a great race, it's Collins who streaks home first, here he is with Salvadori (on the left) second.
