

ROYAL WINDSOR HORSE SHOW:

In the home park of Windsor Castle, the musical ride of the Household Cavalry is among the many colourful items of this year's Royal Windsor Horse Show.

Neat turn-outs in the Trade and Agricultural Section vie for the judge's decisions in the show - organised by the Royal Windsor Horse Show Club.

This little stallion is hardly bigger than the foal!

Now the youngsters prepare for the children's open jumping contests on ponies which must be less than 13 hands high.

Here comes a young rider across the arena and he's over in style. Some of the jumps indeed, are taller than the riders!

But there are the Pat Smythe's and Colonel Llewellyn's of tomorrow, youthful competitors in a show of which Her Majesty the Queen is a patron - A truly royal show!
