FRANCE'S OLDEST MAN.

Monsieur Seraphin Pruvost is France's oldest citizen, so his 106th birthday is a great occasion for his native village of Siracourt, near Arras. It was destroyed in World War Two, but he was one of the first to start rebuilding.

A hundred and six candles and sixty descendants - including some great-great-great-grandchildren. How's that for a party?