AUSTRALIA'S MILLIONTH MIGRANT.

A Yorkshire lass, Barbara Forritt, the millionth new citizen to enter Australia since the war, is welcomed to Melbourne. Just before she sailed from Britain, she married immigrant one million and one who shares the welcome - her husband, Dennis. But it's not only newlyweds who are starting a new life "down-under". Meet Mr. and Mrs. Stalenberg, from Holland. Their two youngest children are Erna (2) and Jose (4). Then there's Netty (6), Ans (7), Gemma (9), and further along Marga (11) and Koop (12.) Next come the twins, Elly and Lydia (13,) and practically on the horizon Rin (14), Jan (17), Henry (18), Adrie (20), and Gerrad (22).

Sixteen new Australian citizens in one family - that makes a pretty good start towards the second million!
