

SIR JOHN GLUBB

Lieutenant-General John Bagot Glubb leaves his London home to drive to Buckingham Palace, where the Queen is to invest him with the insignia of Knight Commander of the Order of the Bath.

Outside the palace, there are quite a few people waiting to see the almost legendary Glubb Pasha, creator of the Arab Legion, who was unceremoniously dismissed by Jordan's King Hussein. Leaving the Palace, Sir John gets out of his car to face the cameras. Sacked by the king whose family he had served for three generations, he has had to return to Britain to have that service honoured.
