

RUGBY LEAGUE CUP FINAL.

Halifax (in the hooped jerseys) kick off against St. Helens in the Rugby League Cup Final at Wembley. St. Helens scrum half Rhodes has the ball - he back heels McIntyre - back to Karalius - but Keilty stops him.

Halifax attacking.

Nearly stopped, but not quite. Out to Lynch - Lynch to Palmer, and Palmer's down.

Wilkinson passes to Henderson, who dodges McIntyre and starts a run - but Frank Carlton's there, and brings him down. The ball's loose - Parsons grabs it - but Daniels tackles him.

Half time and still no score. In the second half, St. Helens put on the pressure. Karalius is pulled down, but passes to Clarten - and he's down too.

Skipper Prescott makes a few yards.

From a scrum down, St. Helen's get the ball away. Left-winger Carlton races for the line, Halifax try to stop him - but he's made it.

Scrum half Rhodes takes the kick - and converts by inches.

Finnan to Parsons - on to Rhodes. Now St. Helens are really moving! Silcock to Grennall - he tries to run, but he's cornered, and passes to Llewellyn - and Llewellyn scores!

Once again Rhodes converts, and St. Helens are leading ten-nil!

Rhodes struggles to break through again - but he's stopped, and so is Daniels.

A penalty for Halifax just saves them from a whitewashing, by two points.

A few minutes to go, and Karalius passes to Prescott - who bulldozes through for a wonderful try!

No luck with the conversion, but the cup is St. Helens by a 13-2 victory, so who cares about a couple of points.

Skipper Prescott is hoisted aloft by his team - jubilant after their first-ever Wembley triumph!
