

SCOTLAND V. YUGOSLAVIA.

Skippers B. Stankovic of Yugoslavia and George Young of Scotland exchange compliments at the start of the soccer international at Hampden Park. The Yugoslavs win the toss.

Scotland, in dark shirts, on the attack - the ball goes to right half McColl, who pushes it out to the right wing - Within seconds, the ball's in the Yugoslavia goalmouth - but goalie Beara beats Reilly and gets it away. And now it's the visitor's turn, Inside left Vukas on the move.

To left winger Zebec - he shoots - but Tommy Younger parries, and Hewish kicks to safety for a corner.

From the corner, Younger saves again, and clears upfield.

Hewish receives - a cross shot - Madie jumps - and it's in!

Scotland one, Yugoslavia nil. Scotland tries again - but Willie Fernie loses to Petakovic - Belin takes it and now the Slavs are attacking!

Petakovic and George Young race for it - and Young wins!

Another Slav attack - but goalie Tommy Younger's in cracking form.

Half time, and Scotland are still one up. Full of confidence, they are soon pressing again - but Belgrade busdriver Vladir Beara's a tough customer, and this attack fails, too.

Back to the Scottish half - left winger Zebec has it - he passes.....

But it hits the post!

Twice in one minute Scotland appeal against pushing. McColl takes a free kick.

Madie to Baird - it hits the bar - but Baird runs back - and he scores!

Scotland two, Yugoslavia nil. And in spite of all Scotland's efforts, that's how it stays. The Slav defenders hold them off - though not without some dangerous moment when it's very nearly three-nil! On the whole, Yugoslavia gets off pretty lightly; they certainly owe a vote of thanks to Beara, the belligerent busdriver!
