

PATHE JOURNAL
Paris,

Paris, April 1. 1957

b-212701

NEW TELEFERIC inaugurated in Namur (Belgium)
~~Radio-teleferic~~
Dupenegative developed : 250 meters - 80 ft

Last Saturday a large crowd had turned out to witness the official inauguration ceremony of the new teleferic which will permit rapid access to the summit of the site which makes the old town of Namur famous.

Numerous official personalities of the province and town were present to the ceremony headed by Mr. Huart Burgmaster of the town. ~~They~~ in the speeches officials expressed their hope that this new teleferic will only be the beginning of further attractions which the town plan on the Citadel's compound for inhabitants and tourists.

In these small cars, two persons can take place together to reach the top of the ancient Namur Castle, officials inaugurated the first trips and they drank to the success of this new modern accommodation after safely landing at the top of the old town.