DANCING DEDICATION:

Hindus of Salisbury, capital of the Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland, build a new Community Hall. Sir Robert Tredgold, Acting Governor General is greeted by a dance of welcome from girls of Salisbury Hindu School.

The foundation stone is officially laid by the Acting Governor General; and then, to bless it, a Hindu priest breaks a coconut over the stone. Next, the traditional Dance of the Lights. The little dandles symbolise the hope that the new Hall will lighten the way to wider culture and knowledge for Salisbury's Indian community.
