SPORTSMEN ON TWO WHEELS - ROLLSKIING, A NEW SPORT IN HOLLAND.

Length 600 metres.

No winter yet in Holland, but in the Hague these girls are already busy with skiing.....on so-called roll-skis.

The roll-ski, a Dutch Invention, has a frontwheel manoeuvrable to all directions, foot-brake on the backwheel and a supporting-pole with a little cushion, which must be pressed between the thigh-thighs.

Every Sunday the members of the first Netherlands Rollski - Club are training, because rollskiing is not so easy as it seems. But when you know the techniques you can participate in a slalom. For unskilled people there is the thrill of rollskiing behind a motorbike.

It must be a pleasant thought for the Dutch that even in a sluggish winter without snow, they can practice the ski-sport in their own country.
