SPEEDBOAT IN FATAL SPILL!

The entry of Ezio Selva in the Orange Bowl regatta at Miami Beach. The famed Italian driver from Milan competes against the world's foremost hydroplane pilots - gunning his 100-mile-per-hour racer in the second of three Grand Prix heats.

Suddenly - the big hydro noses skyward - and - disaster!

His body crushed in the splintered hull, Selva is taken from Biscayne Bay. At 56 he said this would be his "last race". Ironically it was - as death claims an Italian wire manufacturer who enjoyed speedboat racing.
