

IRELAND v. AUSTRALIA (RUGBY)

Australia, in the dark shirts, kick off again Ireland at Lansdowne Road. Since Ireland have never beaten a touring side, the Aussies are full of confidence. An early Irish attack misses by inches, and from then on it's a fast and open game, with plenty of three-quarter play.

The Wallabies bring down Donaldson, to stop an Irish rush - and from the struggling mass Summons gets it away to Connor. Irish skipper Henderson tackles - but Rob Phelps grabs it and streaks for the line!

Australia three up - but a penalty for Ireland brings the equaliser just before half time.

Second half - and here's Summons racing through after Ireland nuffed a kick for touch. The Wallabies lead again!

Now it's Ireland on the attack. David Hewitt flips it back to O'Reilly - the right-winger soon gets rid of it - Cameron tackles, but Kyle has it.

Kyle to Henderson - Donaldson - Pedlow - Pedlow passes to O'Meara - but he's pushed over the line! Hard luck, Ireland.

From a set scrum - Ireland try again.

Veteran Jackie Kyle kicks away - the Aussies fail to clear - it's over - and Wood pounces on it! Six all!

Skipper Noel Henderson fails with the conversion - but he soon redeems himself gloriously. Just what this run - which will be talked about as long as Irishmen play Rigger!

After that, Ireland deserve their record-breaking victory!
