

NATO FORCE FLEXES MUSCLES!

Troops from nine of NATO's 15 member nations pass in review before Supreme Commander, General Lauris Norstad, in Mainz, West Germany. Unity the theme here... as also in Naples, Italy, where South Europe Commander, Admiral Charles R. Brown, sees the forces of six nations march by. Italian carabinieri lead a colorful and impressive - parade. These ceremonies honoring the 10th anniversary of the North Atlantic Alliance underscore the declaration of NATO foreign ministers in Washington that all 15 countries are determined to maintain West Berlin's freedom against Soviet threats.

Sailors, soldiers, marines, engineers, paratroopers - men of many military skills from many lands - united in purpose to defend free peoples. Italy's bersaglieri on the double. The spirit of NATO has never been higher than at its 10th birthday.

SUBMARINE SKATE BREAKS ICE AT POLE!

801 Farewell to the comparatively southern waters of Groton, Connecticut. The nuclear submarine, USS Skate, heads for her second trip to the North Pole...this time to break right through the ice, exactly at the pole.

On the monitor screen - periscope through the ice. And here - a penguin's-eye view of a spectacular surfacing.

It's a barren country whose quiet the Skate has shattered - this will never rate as a first-class liberty port. But, even if no one will ever really want to come here, the Skate's ability to do so undetected could prove of incalculable value. Here she could launch a missile - and slip quietly back into the deep.

MARYLAND HUNTS FUGITIVES IN JAIL BREAK!

A mass prison break from Maryland's Patuxent Institution for Defective Delinquents - 34 young inmates who overpowered two guards. 300 state troopers, county police, national guardsmen and U.S. Marines make a massive air-ground search in the wake of the largest prison break in Maryland history. Police indicate a few of the escapees could be considered "highly dangerous if cornered".

In ones and twos, and sometimes more, the prisoners are picked up; some stole a pickup truck; others were spotted just walking along Route One near Laurel; two were spotted in the woods. This one is somewhat camera shy, but otherwise apparently glad the ordeal is over - as back into custody he goes, in the institution which is a kind of model reform school.

The News of the Day on-the-spot camera rejoins the search. And soon there but a few fugitives reported still at large - closely pursued by the authorities.
