ENGLISHMAN WINS MOTOCROSS:

26 ace riders got away in the International Motocross at Pinerole, Italy. It was for the 250 cc European title. Eight countries competed.

As if the natural hazards of the course were not enough, rain had made a skating-rink surface.

Spills were many, but skill and luck kept the riders out of serious harm.

Star competitor from our side of the Channel was Brian Stonebridge. Riding a Greeves he led the field and came out a good winner.
