

b-060801

INCOM 1779

8TH INTERNATIONAL MOTOCROSS AT PINEROLO

Fatally most motocross races take place in the rain: such was the fate of the 8th International Motocross held in Pinerolo (Piedmont) at Baldissero field.

Eight countries took part to this contest for the European titles 250 category (Switzerland, Germany, Sweden, Holland, England, Denmark Czecho-Slovakia and Italy) 19 foreign and 7 Italian the racers.

The track was tricky because of the rain, and a good mastership was required of men to keep in the saddle; often the wheels failed rolling. No dust of course but plenty of splashes of mud.... and some drops.

Yet the crowd of fans stand undauntedly in the rain, enjoying the race.

Any help was badly wanted (rope, foot-pushes, and so on).

At last the stout British Brian Stonebridge (n.18) arrived first.