

DOVER HOLDS CARNIVAL

Natives and visitors alike, everybody in Dover captured the holiday spirit, to make this year's Carnival the best ever. Certainly the famous town has never had such a fine procession of floats.

Now, recapturing it all here at the Granada, Pathe News gives everybody who was within camera range a chance to see themselves. The collection will now be taken. Not here, of course. You gave generously on Carnival Day, because the money went to the old folk. And we shall all eventually get the sort of figure no hoop would stay on, however skilfully we might waggle.

One of the most ingenious floats represented the hovercraft.

Still harping on air, here was a hark-back to the Daily Mail Air Race. One way and another it was a great day.
