

60/18.WHAT A RALLY.

Drat that...alarm clocks; Ah well, can't sleep all day. Got their living to earn. Got to get up. Oh no. Definitely not getting up. No need to.

It's genius. Why on earth hasn't somebody thought of it before? Even Monday morning is bearable if you can start the day this way. All the accommodation on one floor; every modern convenience.

But the idea won't be taken up. The motor-bed was just one entry in Amsterdam's crazy car rally. Do It Yourself gone completely haywire.

One way and another the exhibits brought domestic life out into the open.

Nobody protested when the first prize went to the motor bed. It's not quite a perfect idea; one of them has to get up to let the cat out.
