

PATHE JOURNAL

Paris, June 27. 1961

Soviet dancer Rudolf NOUREEV revives Nijinski
35 mm. developed positive : 34 meters = 115 ft

Let us unmask immediately this star dancer we got saw in full swing of a training session before his first performance with the International Ballet Company's creation, "the sleeping beauty".

He is the star dancer of the Leningrad Ballets, Rudolf Nourcev, who choose freedom when on the point of being shipped back to Russia a few days ago and who has joined the Cuevas Ballet Company.

Of course everyone can wonder about the motives of Nourcev for choosing the West. Is it for political, family or romantic reasons? or just for artistic reasons? No one knows. The only thing certain is that Nourcev is full of talent and when seeing his gracefull leaps, one can only revive the memories of the unforgettable Nijinski.