

CHIANG SHOWS ARMED MIGHT.

Very much in the spotlight again is Formosa, a big issue, if not in Europe, certainly in the American Election. Chiang Kai Shek and his dynamic wife keep alive the hope of one day leading a return to the mainland of China and overthrowing the Red Government there.

To Madame Chiang it's no puppet regime, headed on the island of Formosa by her veteran husband. On hope, and American money, they live a pleasant life.

The parade was a sight to reassure Chiang, his half-million troops, and perhaps the native people.
