BIG MEN FOR DUKE.

Vincent Apap (Sculptor) and brother Willie (a painter) have an exhibition at the Commonwealth Institute. They were still working when we filmed them before the official opening by Earl Mountbatten. Vincent has had many commissions in Britain, including some by the Royal Family. He and his brother come from Malta. The bust of the Queen was done when she was Princess Elizabeth. The likenesses are brilliant in all his work. Eight miniature caricatures - were made by Vincent for the Duke of Edinburgh. They were not intended to flatter.

Willie and his brother often share the studio, and a model. We hope she gets a fee from both. Willie born in Malta 40 years ago, is eleven younger than his brother.

Britain welcomes these two highly talented brothers from the George Cross Island.
