

CAMERA ON THE WORLD OF AUTOS

Things are looking up in the auto industry with a sharp rise in sales, so there's an air of optimism as the International Auto Show opens. New Yorkers get a first look at this model monorail car. More conventional is this limousine - luxury on wheels. Working power plants give the buyer -- or browser -- an inside view. Check your bank account, then feast your eyes on this import, one of 400 models displayed. The Far East is heard from with this compact compact from Japan. In all, nine nations are represented in the Fifth Annual event and exhibitors hope to draw the curtain on the economic recession. Attention all you lucky campers. With this job and its expansion roof, they aim to bring even more of the comforts of home to your campsite. Fill her up. Me for the open road.