

"GLOBETROTTERS" PINT SIZED.

The Dover Basketeers, from Ohio, opened a tour of the States at Evansville, Indiana. They've modelled themselves on the famous Harlem Globetrotters, and not even those tantalising entertainers have much left to show the juniors.

Nobody of their age is in the same league. Teams playing against them just don't know where the ball is.

A solo effort; so easy, he can even lie down on the job.

Of course, the great object in Basketball is to find the opponents' net. In that dept, too, they have very little to learn.
