

WELSH CUP FINAL.

Bangor City faced Swansea Town in the final round of the Welsh Cup, at Ninian Park. Swansea won the toss. They last won the Cup eleven years ago; Bangor in 1895. And it was Bangor who kicked off. Swansea playing in all white. They took up the attack without delay.

Now Bangor came into the picture. Inside left Brian Ellis began an attack. It was the kind of movement that could bring a goal. And Ellis himself took a return pass and calmly flashed the ball into the Swansea net.

Like true cup fighters Swansea retaliated. Pressure reaped a reward. Centre-Forward Reynolds scored the equaliser.

There were no more goals this side of the interval; half time, one-one.

Swansea kicked off on the resumption. There was a determination about their play, probably the effect of a pep-talk off the field.

In the 56th minute Swansea took the lead. Barrie Jones was the scorer.

Len Davies saw Swansea forwards bearing down on him. Reg Davies scored.

Bangor could do nothing to bring them back into the game. There was no further scoring, So Swansea was, 3-1.

The team and their supporters were jubilant. Swansea Town had won the Final. The cup was theirs.
