

GERMANS WIN AGA KHAN CUP

The Royal Dublin Horse Show. Probably the finest equestrian meeting in Europe. Britain and five other countries entered their best teams of four, competing for the Nation's Cup. Brigadier Blacker (Britain) on Workboy.

F. Welch, Number One of the British team, rode Brule Tout.

Pat Smythe was up on Scorchin. She rode well, but it was not Great Britain's day; the team was not placed in the first three.

Outstanding horseman of the day was Thomas Bagusat, leader of the German team, riding Bajazzo in a faultless round.

Irish Freckles for you. President De Valera was there to present the Trophy to the victorious Germans. It was the first time Germany had won the Aga Khan Cup.
