

POODLES ARE TOP DOG.

It's a dog's life and no mistake, just before the annual Pets' Parade in Hamburg. Soap and water, electric dryer, and then they take half his clothes off. Who'd be a prize poodle? Well, perhaps it's worth it, when it's all over the chap can stand amongst all the awards he's won; maybe all set to win another one this year...Hi ya, Champ:

Here's a whole new family. Germany used to be very much the country of the dachshund, but poodles seem to be taking their place in the public affection, with young people especially.

Off you get, Wackel, you're home.

Somebody at the door.

Let's see the news - Dog biscuits gone up ?

What about a reward ?
