TRANSVAAL TROOPS ON THE MOVE.

You saw them on the march in Australia and South Africa's sons are on Parade too. The Transvaal mechanised horse Artillery is saying goodbyes to Johannesburg... before going into camp for further training. Its South Africa's first citizen force mobilised for this war. A few weeks ago they were civilians..... many of them are still wearing sports shirts and flannel trousers. But they're in the Army now... and glad to be there.

We still remember the men of South Africa in the last war

We've heard about South Africa's Pilots in the Royal Air Force.

These men are moulded in the same tradition. Afrikanders and Britons.... they stand together.
