NASTI NEWS FROM LORD HAW... NO.2.

HAW-HAW.

Germany calling! Germany calling! Here is your comic Lord Haw-Haw again, calling for Hamburger, Seasoning, etcetera, etcetera.

Here is our news - the NASTY news in English (more or less)

Our beloved Field Marshal Goering spent last week with the troops at the West Wall. He, however, will not go again, as the jingling of his medals were mistaken for peace bells... and many of our men thought the war was over.

Our Marvellous Air Force, next Tuesday attacked the English fortified naval base at Tiddleypush-on-the Spree, Despite strong opposition by over a million English Planes, we sank the first class Battleship Crystal Palace.

It has been rumoured that our ships are now being fitted with zip-bottoms to facilitate scuttling... This, my poor deluded English listeners, is utterly false. The truth is that they are being built without bottoms, so that they must always be "the tops".
