The men themselves have described how they were attacked by a German bomber. Their ship was sunk...and they very nearly died from exposure. Attacking one armed ships is one story.... but when the Nazis come up against the Royal Air Force.... its another. One of the latest Messerschmitts has just been shot down in France, and one of the machine guns from the German plane is a proud trophy of the man "who done it". This is supposed to be the latest super machine gun.... from the latest super invincible plane. That's what the Nazis say. But somehow our boys don't quite agree.
