A LONG SLIDE.

Its winter time in Sweden, the Politicians may be worrying about the war .... but not the children. They reckon this is the longest back slide in the world. That's as may be, but there's no doubt that more square yards of trouser seat are being worn out here... than anywhere else for miles around.

The Swedish Kids call it "skin Sledging"

We're not so sure their mothers will call it that when they get home. But anyway..... they'll have a spanking good time.
