ANTI FIFTH COLUMN DRIVE IN PARIS.

All the world knows that Norway and Holland were quickly conquered... by being stabbed in the back. Britain and France are taking steps to meet that danger now. The crowds are out as usual... in the Cafes of Paris. Suddenly they are surrounded by a cordon of police... no one may leave,Every one is asked to produce identity cards. The police don't mind you taking your aperatif as usual...but they want to know who you are.

These days it's impossible to enter or leave Paris by Car..... without being stopped. In France as in Britain... these are lean days for enemy spies and saboteurs.

At every control point there are motor cycle patrols.... in case a Car tries to break through ... And here is one, so after it bays.

Not even a baby car can slip through the Police Network. In this case the papers are not quite in order... one of the identity cards is missing. But the motorist finds it.... general apologies all round...and O.K. Pass on. But let the enemy within our gates beware!
