QUEEN WITH WOUNDED.

There's a good reason for sprucing up; The Queen makes another of her welcomed visits to some of the war wounded. Her Majesty has a word of cheer for the boys, who in turn, proudly exhibit some of their handy work, including a smart creation for the girl friend.

If its topical bed socks you fancy.... here are some animated toe muffs with a kick in them. And when it comes to bidding them farewell.... these fine lads know how to show their appreciation.
