THE TWO PRINCESSES.

.....

As is the case, with children in so many families these days, the Princesses are separated from their parents, except for occasional re-unions. Not just as Mary and Jack Citizen revel in new surroundings - somewhere in England, so we find the Princess Elizabeth and her sister Margaret accompanied by their Government, enjoying a short trip up river starting from Boulders Lock.

Once aboard the "Windrush" and the Lunch makes for the upper reaches of the peaceful Thames.

I didn't see a hamper go aboard, but I've no doubt there is one, as picnic appetites are usually healthy ones.
