R.A.F. RECRUITS.

Airmen in the making prove that they can do a bit of foot slogging with the best of 'em. ... as witness these young recruits who have quickly mastered parade drill at an R.A.F. Training centre. Intensive schooling brings quick results as the Harry Hawks prove when they go all out in a bayonet charge.

If there's a Doctor in the house, there's a lot of sewing up to be done.

If you've got over your first attack of goose pimples, see how the lads get a kick out of their play - especially the chap who's bending down. Every week there's a 'passing out' Parade, when recruits are posted to other stations to complete their training.
