SAUSAGE AND VEG.

Really that title should have read "Veg, and Sausage", for that's the way our picture goes. Men of this barrage balloon section are filling in their spare time growing vegetables which would make many a market gardener "green with envy". There's nothing mean about their beans, and when it comes to cabbages they're "all fine and 'earty".

Tomatoes too - or are tomatoes fruit? Search me!

Well, that's enough about the vegetables and it's time we saw the "sausage" so (whistle) off we go with the boys to send it on its journey up into the blue. If any Nazi wants to take a bite at this sausage, he'll find it da-arned indigestible. It's a Goebbels sausage - full of gas!
