POLISH PRESIDENT VISITS NAVAL UNITS.

Polish Destroyers co-operating with the British Navy are visited by the Polish President, M. Raczewicz (I hope I've pronounced it correctly). Polish Naval units have done good work, (just as their airmen compatriots have done) in helping the British Navy in its fight against the Nazis. In addressing the men, the President said "In fulfilling your duties as men of the Polish Navy, you are not only serving the cause of Poland, but the cause of mankind".
