THE QUEEN, AND CANTEENS FROM THE COLONIES.

In the Courtyard of Buckingham Palace 35 Mobile Canteens are assembled for inspection by the Queen. They are the gift of the whole Colonial Empire, only portion of their magnificent contribution to the war effort. The Canteens will serve hot drinks and food to people in London and other cities, who have been bombed out of their homes. The fleet is put formally into service by Her Majesty.

On each Canteen is written the name of it's done Country. Sincere and spontaneous tributes from the peoples of the Colonies to the people of this country, in whole-hearted recognition of their endurance, courage and infomitable will to victory. A splendidly practical Christmas gift to the Motherland from her Sons and Daughters overseas.
