

2-704800
41/3

OUR NAVY IN MUSSO'S LAKE.

Maintaining control of the Mediterranean, British warships including the most sunk ship in the world - (the aircraft carrier ARK ROYAL) - have completely boxed up the Italian Navy. Swordfish torpedo carriers load up with thousands of pounds worth of tin fish, for Italian consumption. The Captain of the ARK ROYAL directing operations, watches the pilots take off, to join in the work of keeping the sea clear, for a ^{CONTINUOUS} stream of reinforcements and supplies for our Army in the Middle East. You remember the last time the Italians claimed to have bombed and sunk the ARK ROYAL - well, he is the actual attempt, photographed from her deck.

Ark Royal's still afloat.