RACING IN FLORIDA

The winter season has opened with a bang at Tropical Park, Florida, and nine young hopefuls go to the post for the Inaugural Purse. The stands are well filled and the punters hope that their pockets will be well filled too. That's what hope does for you. They're off to a good start, and it's anybody's race, even No.8 might be in it. He's a 50-1 chance Master Key and if his name means anything he might do someone a good turn. In the back stretch the field thins out, and yes, would you believe it, Master Key has edged into 3rd place and round the bend he's neck and neck with the leaders. There he is on the rail. Heading for the home stretch Master Key takes command and he streaks for the post like the favourite he isn't. An outsider at a nice long price makes short work of the season's first.
