

5-403800
PATHE GAZETTE: 41/43. (DUBLIN)

DIVING FROM BRIDGE

Annual campaign gets off to a fine start as a bunch of experts leave Prince's Bridge for the river. Aunt Hetty was a starter, now she's got tonsillitis. Look what's dropping into old man river. Head over heels, it's getting quite a pastime among Nazi pilots over the English Channel. A new head dive, Benito and Adolf holding their hats. Surely they won't throw him in like that, but they will. He's the Great Levante, famous magician, into the moat he goes. On the bed of the Yarra, the great Levante rests. He can't get out of it, he can't get out - he's out of it.