

GENERAL SMUTS AT SOUTH AFRICA HOUSE.

At a function arranged by the High Commissioner for South Africa, General Smuts meets many gallant Springboks in the R.A.F. Squadron Leader Nettleton, South Africa's first V.C. of the war, and his wife, an Assistant Section Officer in the W.A.A.F. are among those for whom the Prime Minister has a special word.

Speaking to the big assembly of South Africans, representing all branches of the Services, General Smuts brings the good wishes of loved ones at home to the stout-hearted and gallant sons and daughters of South Africa.
