

C-8EF000

PATHE GAZETTE: 42/96.

SAVE FUEL - TRAILER

This war, more than any other in the history of mankind, is a war of transport. Troops must be carried to their positions to guard Britain and to attack from Britain. All the weapons of war must be transported with them. Factories who make these weapons must be fed with raw materials and supplied with workers. Keep the lines clear for waging war. Remember, every time you ride in a train you are using coal that's needed to make the machines of war, every time you ride in a bus you are using petrol that is required to drive these machines. You may not be very big or heavy, you may not be going more than a three-ha'penny ride, every little counts. So save your fare and save our fuel and march to victory with the troops.